BIBLE STUDY

“THANKS FOR NOTHING”
(a thanksgiving study)

During this week of Thanksgiving, we are going to learn and practice a spiritual discipline called meditation. This is actually a biblical principle even though this word often uses the term to describe the mystic practices of the eastern religions. However, we will recapture the truth of this discipline and apply it to our lives.

In the book "Celebration of Discipline" by Richard Forster, meditation is defined as "the ability to hear God's voice and obey his word." The idea of meditation involves "listening to God's word, reflecting on God's works, rehearsing God's deeds, ruminating on God's law, and more. In each case there is stress upon changed behavior as a result of our encounter with the living God."

God desires a personal relationship with us. Meditating on His word, works, and ways enable us to further understand God in a more intimate way. The knowledge of who God is increases our love for Him, which in turn causes us to desire to change our lives in order to please Him. That is why meditation is not a mere gaining of head knowledge. Instead, it helps us to evaluate our hearts so that we can turn away from our sinful ways. The book of James elaborates on this point:

²²Do not merely listen to the word, and so deceive yourselves. Do what it says. ²³Anyone who listens to the word but does not do what it says is like a man who looks at his face in a mirror ²⁴and, after looking at himself, goes away and immediately forgets what he looks like. ²⁵But the man who looks intently into the perfect law that gives freedom, and continues to do this, not forgetting what he has heard, but doing it—he will be blessed in what he does.

James 1:22-25

This week we will be challenged to look intently into the Word of God for the purpose of change being manifested into our lives. The passage of Scripture that we will meditate on is Luke 17:11-17.

¹¹Now on his way to Jerusalem, Jesus traveled along the border between Samaria and Galilee. ¹²As he was going into a village, ten men who had leprosy met him. They stood at a distance ¹³and called out in a loud voice, "Jesus, Master, have pity on us!" ¹⁴When he saw them, he said, "Go, show yourselves to the priests." And as they went, they were cleansed. ¹⁵One of them, when he saw he was healed, came back, praising God in a loud voice. ¹⁶He threw himself at Jesus' feet and thanked him—and he was a Samaritan. ¹⁷Jesus asked, "Were not all ten cleansed? Where are the other nine?"

Today's Scripture:
Luke 17:11-17

The Word

Pray and ask God to open up your mind to understand His living Word.

Where are the other nine?" Luke 17:11-17

What stood out to you when you read these verses?

What qualities of Jesus are represented here?

Think through those qualities throughout the day. Confess any sin that God brings to mind as you consider how far short you fall of being like Jesus. Repent from those sins. Repentance is turning away from them. Confession is meaningless if we refuse to repent. It is time to put away those sins that entangle us and walk towards being more like Jesus.

Write down anything God spoke to you in your Spirit.

How will you apply what God has taught you these past few days?

You have spent the past few days beginning your journey into the discipline of meditation. Continue to develop this skill in your life for it will lead you to greater intimacy with God, which Thomas a Kempis calls “a familiar friendship with Jesus.” Each day continue thinking on God’s Word, God’s works, and God’s ways throughout the day. This meditation will help you fall more in love with Jesus.
